'COGNIZANCE' - Provoking new thoughts....

PU SCIENCE EXPO-2011

An Inter JGI-PU Science Expo "COGNIZANCE"-2011 was organized on 7th September 2011 by the Department of Science, Jain College J C Road Campus. The exhibition was inaugurated by Dr. B T Venkatesh, Director, PU Colleges, Jain Group of Institutions.

Dr. Sadashivan, ISRO Head quarters, Bangalore was also present at the inauguration as chief guest.

The Science-Expo provides a platform for the students to showcase their talents and creativity in the field of science. There were about 175 exhibits of both static and working projects and models from 450 participants from all the sister-concerns of the JGI group. It was an exploratory attempt by the students in creating innovative models in physical and biological sciences which helped them to concretize on many concepts of basic and latest technological applications of science.

The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) exhibited different scale down satellite models of Changarayana, GSAT-8, PSLV, GSLV-MK-III, and CARTSAT-2. Some of the recently launched satellites' models were exhibited for first time by ISRO in this exhibition.

The Li2-Innovations Pvt. Ltd., an IIT-IISc Alumni also exhibited their models in the field of Robotics, Physical Computing and Basic Sciences which covered concepts like Robot anatomy, Autonomous robotics, Logic gates and circuits, etc.

Dr. Shanthi Iyer, Principal, Jain College-PU, J C Road, Mr. Jagadish Ballal, Retd Manager, BEL, presently an active member of the Innovation Bazaar, Quality Circle Forum of India, Bangalore Ch and all the Heads of the Department distributed the prizes, certificates and the BEST MODEL award to the deserving winners.
